Kay Tanner, Editor

1961 Ormazd Editor

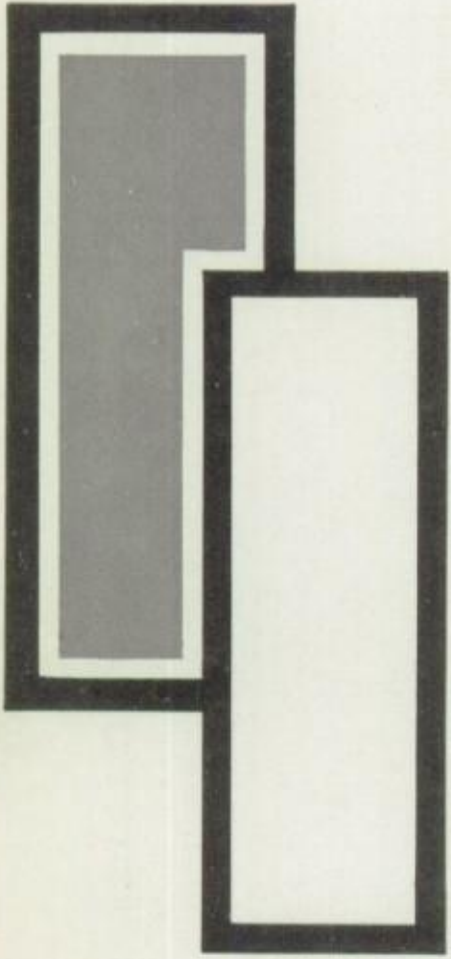

This has been one of my most pleasant years in high school. One reason is that the senior class elected me editor of the Ormazd. I am deeply grateful to them for that honor. I have enjoyed working with all of them in publications class.

Dedication

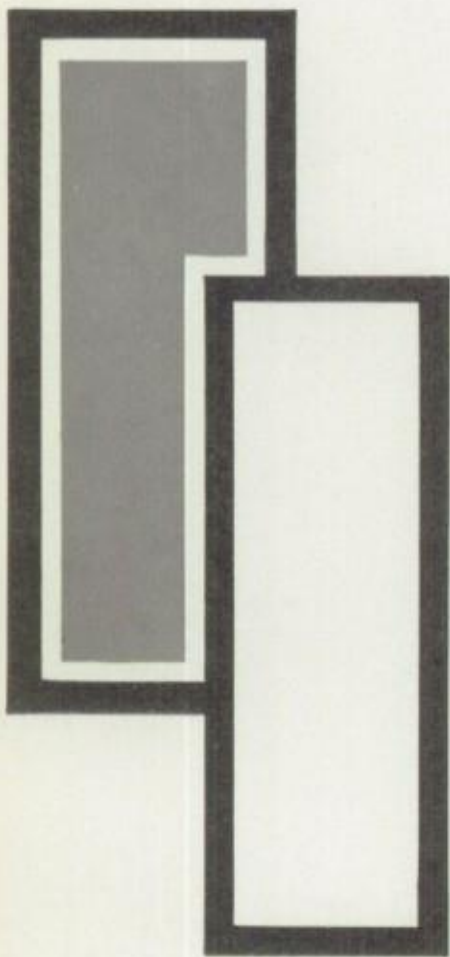

Mrs. Mary Gaither

She's always there when our troubles we bring;
And ready to give us a helping hand.
She's always busy with papers and things;
Her ability is always in demand.

She graduated from Zalma High School in 1955.
She has been secretary of Zalma High for three years and is treasurer of the school board of District R-V.

It is to this congenial personality that we, the Ormazd Staff of 1960-61, do proudly and sincerely dedicate this book.

Faculty

The sponsor and staff of the 1961 Ormazd have worked with enthusiasm and diligence to produce a yearbook of which we can all be proud. They have earned our appreciation for their efforts

I hope that as the lower classes enjoy this book in the days to come that each student will resolve to do his very best work in school so that each one may receive the greatest benefit possible from his education.

Best wishes to the members of the 1961 graduating class.

Sincerely yours,

Our club was established this year with the sincere hope of bringing about a more useful and better equipped library. The sole purpose is to make our library a helpful and enjoyable place in which to find material for school work and good reading for spare-time enjoyment.

We think we have accomplished many good things. The library is better arranged and kept more neat than in the past.

We have adopted by-laws which the students will help maintain.

Our club has 34 members enrolled. No member is admitted unless he can maintain the qualifications of the by-laws. The club consists mostly of students from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. The graduating seniors wish the club could have been established earlier in their school years so that they could have had more participation in its activities.

"Why, no!"

Class Chronicles of '61

On August 19, 1957, forty-one of us exuberant students stepped across that invisible line which marks the boundary between the grade and the high school and became the freshman of '57.

As freshman there were not too many activities that we could participate in. This year for the first time we were granted the privilege of selecting our queen and king candidates of the Ormazd, and we chose Kay Tanner and Ed Sturgeon.

In sports we were fortunate to have Boogie Rowe make the girls' "A" team in volleyball. Lucille Boyd and Carolyn Shell made the "B" team. Terry Cooper, Carl Malloy, Archie Maloney, and Richard Ward made the boys' volleyball team this first year. "A" team basketball boys were Carl Malloy and Richard Ward. "B" team basketball players were Larry Beal, Larry Cooper, Terry Cooper, Archie Maloney, Donald Mayberry, and Ed Sturgeon. Pat Conrad and Boogie Rowe were chosen cheerleaders our freshman year.

Those participating in other activities during our freshman year were Pat Conrad, Dannis Cooper, Janis Juergens, Thomas Nall, and Boogie Rowe as band members. Carolyn Shell was chosen majorette in the band. Girls' glee club members were Pat Conrad, Rosalie Owens, Carolyn Shell, Sue Stepp, and Kay Tanner. Future Homemakers of America were Pat Conrad, Janis Juergens, Barbara Kirkpatrick, and Boogie Rowe.

During our freshman year, we lost Pauline Camden, Joyce Green, Robert Howard, Bill Jackson, Sue Jackson, Dale Lyons, D. W. Maloney, Virginia Owens, and Louise Williams.

Our freshman year ended with a trip to Lake Killarney, accompanied by Mrs. Lenzie Myers as our class sponsor.

On the day of enrollment for our sophomore year, only thirty-six of us freshmen had survived the rigors of the previous year.

With the experience we had gained from our freshman year, we were able to enter into more activities as sophomores. Boogie Rowe and Terry Cooper were chosen as candidates for the Ormazd. Also Dean Talley was elected to represent our school in the Citizenship Pilgrimage to Jefferson City.

In sports Jerry Burchett and Edward Stevens were added to our "B" team basketball squad.

Only one sophomore, Kay Tanner, was in girls' glee club.

We lost Leamon Campbell, Dannis Cooper, Betty Garner, J. D. Hornbuckle, Clara James, Lee Roy Lemons, Carl Malloy, Barbara Ward, and Melvina Watkins during our sophomore year, but we added a new member, Marlene Stilts.

In our second year, a local chapter of the National Beta Club was organized in Zalma, two members of which were sophomores Marlene Stilts and Dean Talley.

Our sophomore year ended with a trip to Keener's Resort in charge of Mr. Duward Gale, our class sponsor.

At the beginning of the third year, the number in our class had shrunk to thirty-two jolly juniors.

What an exciting year this was!

We chose Carolyn Shell and Larry Cooper as queen and king candidates for the Ormazd.

Carolyn Shell was drum majorette in the band. The following junior girls sang in the girls' glee club: Pat Conrad, Janis Juergens, Boogie Rowe, Carolyn Shell, Sue Stepp, Marlene Stilts, and Kay Tanner.

Baseball players from our class were Larry Cooper, Terry Cooper, Archie Maloney, Thomas Nall, Edward Stevens, Ed Sturgeon, and Richard Ward.

Girls added to the volleyball team were Barbara Kirkpatrick, Ruth Lemons, Rosalie Owens, Sue Stepp, and Marlene Stilts.

This year for the first time, our school selected a basketball queen. Boogie Rowe, escorted by Ed Sturgeon, represented our class, and received the honor of Miss Basketball Queen of 1960.

We presented our first play, "Mystery, Mayhem, and Murder." Those in the play were Lucille Boyd, Pat Conrad, Terry Cooper, Janis Juergens, B. H. Lemons, Jo Ann Metheny, Boogie Rowe, Sue Stepp, and Richard Ward.

This year we also received our class rings.

Lucille Boyd was added to the Beta Club.

During our junior year we lost J. D. Hosentfeld, B. H. Lemons, and Jerry Limbaugh, but we gained a new member, John Robertson.

As our junior year closed we took the same trip that we made as sophomores, accompanied by our sponsor, Mrs. Arthur Knuth, and the sophomore class.

Carolyn Shell married during the summer of 1960, and Robert Stevenson returned to Greenville High for his senior year. Therefore on August 22, 1960, only twenty-nine of us seniors had survived the tumultuous years behind us.

This year our candidates for Queen and King of the Ormazd were successful in winning the election. So, Ruth Lemons and Richard Ward, on November 18, became Queen and King of the Ormazd.

Members of our class as usual were well represented in sports. This year Lucille Boyd, Barbara Kirkpatrick, Ruth Lemons, Boogie Rowe, Sue Stepp, and Marlene Stilts assisted the volleyball team in taking the first-place trophy in the tournament. Six of our boys, Larry Cooper, Terry Cooper, Archie Maloney, Donald Mayberry, Ed Sturgeon, and Richard Ward, played on the "A" team in basketball.

The loss of our gym by fire, December 3, 1960, has handicapped us in our athletic program as well as in other activities. The basketball teams have had to practice on the court of neighboring schools. Whether we shall be able to present the senior play or not is uncertain. We were unable to have the coronation of the basketball queen.

A new organization, the Librarians Club, was formed this year. Charter members from our class were Linda Baker, Lucille Boyd, Pat Conrad, Jo Ann Metheny, Rosalie Owens, Sue Stepp, and Marlene Stilts.

Rosalie Owens and Boogie Rowe joined the Beta Club during their senior year.

Then this year we lost some more members of our class. Janis Juergens transferred to Advance High School. Pat Conrad was graduated at the end of the first semester, having obtained enough credits for graduation. Pat became Mrs. Harold Dees on October 20, 1960. Jim McCullough also dropped out of school.

Two of our class members chose the Christmas season for their weddings. John Robertson and Eilene Daniels were married on December 23, while Barbara Kirkpatrick and Jerry Brown were united in wedlock on December 24.

And now time is rapidly a-wasting away. Soon we shall receive the last report on our grade cards. There will come that last night when the faculty will bid us Godspeed. With our sponsors, Mr. Brooks and Mrs. DuVall, we shall hie ourselves away to new scenes for a few brief days. From this excursion, we shall return, each to go his separate way.

Last Will and Testament

We, the seniors of 1961, sound in mind and judgment, as far as within us lies, do grant and bestow our vested rights, privileges, and claims to the high school at Zalma, Missouri to our heirs, assignees, legatees, donors, and beneficiaries for whatsoever length of time they may spend behind its walls.

ARTICLE I. To the superintendent, principal, and faculty, we leave the burned gym.

ARTICLE II. To the juniors, we pass on the right of being treated as human beings.

ARTICLE III. To the sophomores, we bequeath the old "Out House" in which to smoke.

ARTICLE IV. To the freshmen, we give our desire that you will accomplish more in high school than we did.

ARTICLE V. To the junior high classes, we leave everything we didn't destroy.

ARTICLE VI. Each outgoing senior has, during his or her four years of attendance at Zalma High, accumulated a small legacy which he or she wishes to bestow upon some worthy, or luckless, student to whom the gratuity may be a windfall. They bequeath as follows:

Kelly Abernathy	To Bill Hanner, his skill in wowing the girls.
Linda Baker	To Lerrie Overton, her twist.
Larry Beal	To Gerald Burger, his success with the girls.
Lucille Boyd	To Genora Clippard, her tiny feet.
Barbara Brown	To Sharon Hinkle, her neatness.
Jerry Burchett	To Evelyne Porter, his shyness.
Hubert Cato	To Denzel Garner, his ball-playing prowess.
Lonnie Collins	To Johnnie Sturgeon, his stand-in with Mildred Shipley.
Larry Cooper	To Curtis Busche, his skill of talking nice around girls.
Terry Cooper	To Jean Gribbler, his ability to complete assignments by class time.
Pat Dees	To Betty Lacy, her tight slim jims.
Ronnie Froman	To Ronnie Kucera, his secret for well-groomed hair.
Ruth Lemons	To Sandra Rowe, her girdle.
Archie Maloney	To Gary Smith, his Romeo features.
Donald Mayberry	To Janice Lingle, all his possessions.
Jo Ann Metheny	To any grouch, her friendly ways.
Thomas Nall	To Marlene Mayberry, his excellent public relations with Mr. Howdeshell and Mr. Cato.
Rosalie Owens	To Carolyn Hanner, her nosiness.
John Robertson	To Bob Sturgeon, his ability to fend off the matrimonial intentions of the fair sex.
Boogie Rowe	To all gigglers, her unsmiling face.
Sue Stepp	To Shannon Cooper, her extra pounds.
Edward Stevens	To Judy Newell, his svelte figure.
Marlene Stilts	To any primer, her compact, lipstick, and comb.
Ed Sturgeon	To Charles Burchett, his long hair.
Dean Talley	To Larry Davault, his ability to flunk.
Kay Tanner	To Dorothy Loyd, her waistline.
Richard Ward	To Mr. Francis, his hot-rodding skills.

Operation Aquanautists

The date: January 17, 1968

The place: A large office in the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., an airplane, and a Marine base in California.

The action: A pseudo rebellion in which members of the Class of '61, Zalma, Missouri, become involved, but which ends happily for all concerned.

In an Army Office in the Pentagon, Washington, D.C., on this 17th day of January, 1968, three five-star generals of the United States Marine Corps held identical sealed orders in their hands.

General Archie Maloney ripped open his envelope, and after a pause so did General Edward Stevens and General Donald Mayberry.

"Mine is from the President of the United States," said General Maloney, "briefing me that there is a reported uprising of the Spaniards in California. I am to report to a Marine base in California at once under a pretext of making a nation-wide inspection, but I am in reality to investigate this rumor about the uprising. I judge that you received something of like purport."

Generals Stevens and Mayberry nodded assent.

"Order our jet at once," said General Maloney, "and we'll be on our way."

As they boarded their jet at the airport for the Marine base in California, Kay Tanner, the hostess in her trim uniform, met them and inquired whether they or their wives desired anything. They recognized each other and had a joyous reunion. The passengers stared at all the confusion. One tall, red-headed girl came forward. Recognizing old friends, she joined the joy makers. What a wonderful coincidence! It was that zany, Jo Ann Metheny.

Of course, no general can do without his secretary. Boogie Rowe, Sue Stepp, and Rosalie Owens served their superiors very well.

Finally the old friends ceased their reminiscing and settled down. The landing was very exciting to Boogie and Rosalie, for they had never been on a plane before.

Grounded, they were met by three Staff Sergeants who were arguing earnestly about who had the prettiest girl. Thomas Nall, Larry Cooper, and Lonnie Collins certainly hadn't changed. The sergeants started toward those disembarking from the plane, recognition in their eyes. Suddenly, two colonels stepped up and promptly sent the three to the guard house. Everyone was amazed! The two colonels were Dean Talley and Richard Ward.

Upon reaching the post, the girls wanted to freshen up a bit, so they asked three young, good-looking lieutenants to direct them to the nurses' quarters. The lieutenants turned out to be Kelly Abernathy, Ed Sturgeon, and Hubert Cato. Were the girls ever glad to see those guys! And the lieutenants were glad to see their generals.

As the party from the plane neared a large brick building, they heard screams. Then, quick as a flash, someone, dressed as an out-dated Spanish buccaneer, and masked, burst out of the building. With him, he pulled Barbara Brown. What was going on here? Again the door of the building burst open, and three disheveled nurses ran out. Why, those nurses were Marlene Stilts, Ruth Lemons, and Pat Dees! They grabbed at the man from behind, but he eluded them.

"What goes on here?" demanded the three five-star general as with one voice.

Simultaneously as with one hand, they reached out and snatched the mask from the face of the Spanish buccaneer.

Surprise! Surprise! It was Terry Cooper.

Someone called the M.P.'s. Interesting enough, the M.P.'s were John Robertson, Jerry Burchett, and Ronald Froman. Of course, when the girls and the M.P.'s recognized each other, they had a marvelous time.

Just then, as Terry stepped in front of them to explain his little escapade, two ladies and a man reporter came rushing up. The three had received a tip that there was a big story here, so they had dropped everything and rushed right over. The party from Washington was exhilarated to see Lucille Boyd, Linda Baker, and Larry Beal.

The M.P.'s had forgotten that they were supposed to arrest the trouble-maker, so once more Terry tried to tell them what had happened. He was now one of the most important scientists in the United States, and the most valued of the government's men.

The government was making a survey of women. Now that they had Aquanauts, they wanted women Aquanautists. They knew that the Marine Corps was an ideal organization from which to secure the information they were seeking. They chose Terry Cooper as their representative. He had donned this disguise, circulated a rumor to the effect that the Spanish were rebelling, and began his investigation among the nurses to determine at what point they would crack up when they saw one of their comrades being kidnapped or in trouble.

The three generals were called back to Washington immediately. Their mission accomplished, they were now free to discuss their private lives.

General Maloney was talking to General Mayberry and General Stevens. "Well, men, it looks as if we did get to see everyone of our old friends even if it was a hoax. We had fun, didn't we? Just like old times."
